What is Functional Support Desk?

The Creal Functional Support Desk extends Oracle expertise to organizational users faced with functional questions. Users log support requests in Creal's ticketing system and track their requests from initiation through to resolution.

Creal's Functional Support Desk is intended for customers in a stable production Oracle Environment. Consulting services are also available.

Why Functional Support Desk?

- Preventative Consulting: Helps identify problems which may be associated with poorly defined procedures or setups, lack of user knowledge that prevents full use of application functionality.
- Corrective Consulting: Helps resolve issues caused by system user errors which prevent desired system function.
- Correcting user errors: Where necessary, we provide support to quickly correct user operational errors
- User instruction on system use: Operational support regarding functions that users do not fully understand, or training for new staff.
- New Reports or New Functionality Testing

A Partnership for Success

- US Oracle ACE led implementation and assurance services
- 30+ years of Oracle partnership experience
- Trusted by senior leadership teams to validate assertions, decisions
